

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION

The Freedom of Information Act gives everyone the right to request any recorded information held by a parish council. There is no requirement to explain why the information is being requested. There are no restrictions on age, nationality or where the person making the request lives.

There are a number of exemptions under the FOI Act that can prevent the information becoming public. For example, commercially sensitive information and confidential information that falls under the Data Protection Act.

How to request information

If you wish to obtain the information from Hadnall Parish Council, you should first check whether it is contained within the council's Publication Scheme.

Publication Scheme

Hadnall Parish Council's Publication Scheme contains a list of all the information the parish council makes available to the public either in hard copy format or electronically through its website or email. It has been produced in response to the requirements of Section 19 of the FOI Act, but it also supports the parish council's commitment to make information of public interest freely available. Much of the information is available through the parish council's website, but for other information or any queries about the Scheme, please contact the Clerk.

Requesting information not found within the Publication Scheme

If you can't find the information you are interested in through the Publication Scheme, then you can make a request for information under the FOI Act. Requests must be in writing, must contain a name and address for the parish council to contact you, and must describe the information you want in sufficient detail so that it can be found.

The council will reply to you within 20 working days. It may:

- give you the information you have asked for;
- request further details in order to identify and locate the information;
- tell you it doesn't have the information;
- tell you that another authority holds the information or transfer the request on your behalf;
- say that it has the information and offer to provide it if you pay the fee that applies to your request;
- refuse to give you the information, and explain why, or;
- under the FOI Act, say that it needs more time to consider the public interest in disclosing or withholding the information, and tell you when to expect a response (within a time limit of 40 working days).

Complaints Procedure

If there are any complaints arising out of the parish council's response to the FOI Act or its Publication Scheme they should initially be made to the Clerk. If the Clerk is unable to resolve a particular issue, then the matter will be referred to full council in accordance with the parish council's adopted Complaints Procedure.
